

American Cranberry is a large attractive native shrub. It is showy in the spring with clusters of white flowers. The red fruit is great for attracting birds, as well as, making jams and jellies.

